Native American regalia and regalia making is a major part of the OA and can be a life long hobby within Scouting. This day is intended to introduce you to the creation, and care of Native American Regalia. We will be working on the Lodges Regalia as well as helping you begin or complete your personal regalia (chokers, bracelets, pouches).

Come on by to lend a hand or learn for the first time how do you get started. If you have your own tools (ie: good sharp sewing scissors, hobby knife set, bead loom, leather punch...etc) please bring them along. If you are an experienced seamstress or a person experienced in crafts this day is sure to offer you something new and allow you the opportunity to help the lodge.

This event is open to all OA members including Adults and the parents of members who would like to learn how to help out the Lodge and their sons.
